Birmingham Airport Authority's Ingrid Hairston Selected as a 2022 Top Birmingham Women Honoree by Birmingham Business Journal

Birmingham, AL, September 13, 2022 – Ingrid Hairston, A.A.E., Vice President of Properties and Business Development for the Birmingham Airport Authority, was announced as one of the Birmingham Business Journal's 2022 Top Birmingham Women honorees. These awards recognize women who have risen to the pinnacle of their industries or fields and who have a long and tangible track record of results and impact in the community and their industries.

Longtime readers likely recall the Top Birmingham Women distinction from years ago, which was eventually succeeded by the Women To Watch awards. Women to Watch honorees will also be unveiled this week.

Due to the overwhelming number of nominations we receive each year and the tremendous wave of emerging leaders in our business community that are worthy of recognition, the BBJ decided to revive Top Birmingham Women in 2020 in conjunction with the 10th annual women's Summit. It will continue as long as there is interest to honor Birmingham's top women.

Winners were selected from nominations received at BBJ.com, and will be recognized at the 2022 Women's Summit, which will be held Friday, Sept. 23 at Ross Bridge in Hoover. You can find a speaker lineup and registration details here.
